Fox Class Weekly Newsletter Friday 14th July 2023

Dear Families,

Hope you had a lovely week.

We can't believe the children have only one more week in year 3 left and another academic year has come to an end. I hope they realise how special they all are and that they have enjoyed their time in fox class.

Parents and carers we would like to say thank you from all the year 3 team for your support throughout the year. You have been with us every step of the way, supporting your children with their homework activities and projects, spellings, reading, volunteering on class trips (British Museum, Walton Firs), walking with us to and from swimming, buying biscuits and toppings for red nose day, raising funds for the class on cake sales and buying new globes for the classroom to say the least. We truly appreciate your contributions to making this a wonderful year. Also many thanks for your kind comments, cards and gifts. You are all so kind we feel spoilt by your generosity.

Our Learning

Maths

This week we were learning about the properties of 3D shapes. We also had fun building towers using 3d shapes, blocks, playing cards and lego.

English

We rewrote the story of the traditional tale 'The Firebird' in our own words.

Science

We discussed the positives and negatives between disposable and towelling nappies. Children overwhelmingly voted that disposable nappies were better than towelling nappies as they were more convenient, easy to carry on holiday, thrown away after use (no cleaning) and babies were more comfortable using them.

Geography

We were learning about the features of coastlines. The children were able to label a picture of a coastline using keywords. These included, cave, bay, beach, dune, arch, stack, headland, cliff, stump and coast.

Design and Technology

We continued to assemble our cushions by learning to use the running stitch technique to attach pieces to material together.

Walton Firs

On Monday 10th July we went to Walton Firs in Cobham on our class trip. Thank you to all the parents and volunteers for helping the children have an enjoyable time throughout the day on all the activities which included the low ropes, the maze, giant games and the tyre swings. The children also had time to play a game of hide and seek using the trees for cover.
