INTRODUCTION

Imperial Avenue Infant School fully recognises the responsibility it has under Section 157 of the Education Act 2002 to have arrangements in place to safeguard and promote the welfare of children.

This policy has been written using advice taken from Searching, Screening and Confiscation: DfE Advice for schools DfE June 2022.

The school acknowledges its legal duty to make reasonable adjustments for disabled children and children with special educational needs (SEN), Equality Act 2010

This Policy should be read in conjunction with the following school policies:

- Behaviour Policy
- Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy

PRIORITISE SAFEGUARDING

Imperial Avenue Infant School have a duty of care to all pupils in our school. This means that we should balance:

- The need to safeguard all pupils by confiscating harmful, illegal, or disruptive items
- The safeguarding needs and wellbeing of pupils suspected of possessing these items

PROCEDURE - SEARCH WITH CONSENT

Under schools' common law powers to search, any authorised member of staff can search a pupil for any item if the pupil agrees. Our authorised members of staff are our DSLs - Miss Smith, Mrs Malin, Mr Palmer and Miss Maycock. The member of staff should ensure the pupil understands the reason for the search and how it will be conducted so that their agreement is informed. The school will take into account the age of the child when considering consent.

If staff suspect a pupil had a prohibited or banned items in their possession, they should contact the authorised member of staff who will:

- ask the pupil to turn out his or her pockets or if the teacher can look in the pupil's bag
- The school makes clear in their school behaviour policy and in communications to parents and pupils what items are banned.
- If a member of staff suspects a pupil has a banned item in his/her possession, they can instruct the pupil to turn out his or her pockets or bag and if the pupil refuses, the teacher can apply an appropriate punishment as set out in the school's behaviour policy.
- A pupil refusing to co-operate with such a search raises the same kind of issues as where a pupil refuses to stop any other unacceptable behaviour when instructed by a member of staff – in such circumstances, schools can apply an appropriate sanction.

SEARCH WITHOUT CONSENT

The Head teacher and staff authorised by the Head teacher have a statutory power to search pupils or their possessions, without consent, where they have reasonable grounds for suspecting that the pupil may have a prohibited item.

There must be an additional witness (also a staff member) present when a pupil is searched.

There is a limited exception to this rule. Authorised staff can carry out a search of a pupil without a witness present, but only where the staff member reasonably believes that there is a risk that serious harm will be caused to a person if they do not conduct the search immediately and where it is not reasonably practicable to summon another member of staff.

Prohibited items

- knives or weapons
- alcohol
- illegal drugs
- stolen items
- tobacco and cigarette papers
- fireworks
- pornographic images
- any article that the member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used to commit an offence, or to cause personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the pupil)

Banned items

Along with the items above, other banned items are:

- mobile phones
- laser pens
- electronic cigarettes
- cigarette lighters, matches and associated paraphernalia
- other substances not believed to be controlled drugs
- stolen items
- aerosol cans
- any items that may pose a threat to others
- any item which is contrary to the ethos of the school

ESTABLISHING GROUNDS FOR A SEARCH

Authorised staff can only undertake a search without consent if they have reasonable grounds for suspecting that a pupil may have in his or her possession a prohibited item.

They must decide in each particular case what constitutes reasonable grounds for suspicion. For example, they may have heard other pupils talking about the item or they might notice a pupil behaving in a way that causes them to be suspicious.

In the exceptional circumstances when it is necessary to conduct a search of a pupil in the absence of a witness, the member of staff conducting the search should bear in mind that a pupil's expectation of privacy increases as they get older.

The powers allow school staff to search regardless of whether the pupil is found after the search to have that item. This includes circumstances where staff suspect a pupil of having items such as illegal drugs or stolen property which are later found not to be illegal or stolen.

Searches without consent can only be carried out on the school premises or, if elsewhere, where the member of staff has lawful control or charge of the pupil, for example on school trips in England.

CONFISCATION

Authorised staff can seize any prohibited item found as a result of a search. They can also seize any item, however found, which they consider harmful or detrimental to school discipline.

When deciding what to do with the confiscated items, staff will follow the guidelines set out in Searching, Screening and Confiscation: Advice for Head teachers, school staff and governing bodies DfE January 2018.

DEALING WITH ELECTRONIC DEVICES (STATUTORY GUIDANCE)

Where the person conducting the search finds an electronic device they may examine any data or files on the device if they think there is a good reason to do so. Following an examination, if the person has decided to return the device to the owner, or to retain or dispose of it, they may erase any data or files, if they think there is a good reason to do so.

The member of staff must have regard to the following guidance issued by the Secretary of State when determining what is a “good reason” for examining or erasing the contents of an electronic device: In determining a ‘good reason’ to examine or erase the data or files the staff member must reasonably suspect that the data or file on the device in question has been, or could be, used to cause harm, to disrupt teaching or to go against the expectation in the school’s Behaviour Policy.

If inappropriate material is found on the device it is up to the teacher to decide whether they should delete that material, retain it as evidence (of a criminal offence or a breach of school discipline) or whether the material is of such seriousness that it requires the involvement of the police.

GUIDANCE FOR CARRYING OUT A SEARCH

What the law says:

- The person conducting the search may not require the pupil to remove any clothing other than outer clothing.
- ‘Outer clothing’ means clothing that is not worn next to the skin or immediately over a garment that is being worn as underwear but ‘outer clothing’ includes hats, shoes, boots, gloves and scarves.
- ‘Possessions’ means any goods over which the pupil has or appears to have control – this includes desks, lockers and bags.
- A pupil’s possessions can only be searched in the presence of the pupil and another member of staff, except where there is a risk that serious harm will be caused to a person if the search is not conducted immediately and where it is not reasonably practicable to summon another member of staff. Also note: The power to search without consent enables a personal search, involving removal of outer clothing and searching of pockets; but not an intimate search going further than that, which only a person with more extensive powers (e.g. a police officer) can do

LOCKERS AND DESKS/TRAYS

Under common law powers, schools are able to search lockers and desks for any item provided the pupil agrees. Schools can also make it a condition of having a locker or desk that the pupil consents to have these searched for any item whether or not the pupil is present.

If a pupil does not consent to a search (or withdraws consent having signed a consent form) then it is possible to conduct a search without consent but only for the “prohibited items” listed above.

USE OF FORCE

See Physical Restraint and Use of Reasonable Force Policy

INFORMING PARENTS

There is no requirement for the school to inform parents before a search.

Parents may be informed as part of the school behaviour policy and procedures.

Parents will be informed if the matter is sufficiently serious or could be potentially harmful to the pupil or the school.

If a parent makes a complaint, the normal procedures for dealing with a complaint should be followed.

RECORD KEEPING

There is no legal requirement for the school to keep records of searches or confiscation. However as part of our normal procedures any such event will be recorded on the child’s record on CPOMS (Child Protection Online Monitoring System).
