Statement of intent

Micklands Primary School is a vibrant, enthusiastic, forward thinking and safe learning environment in which children are given every opportunity to complete a fulfilling primary school education.

At Micklands, we believe that homework plays an important part in a child's education.

The benefit of doing homework must be instilled at an early age so that independent study can be achieved.

We are also aware that children have opportunities and experiences outside of school that are equally important in developing and enriching their lives. We will give careful consideration to making homework well-balanced across the school.

This Homework Policy was developed in consultation with staff members, parents, pupils and with the full agreement of the governing body.

Aims

Micklands Primary School's Homework Policy aims to:

- Develop a consistent approach to homework throughout the school.
- Make sure that teaching staff, parents and pupils are aware of their responsibilities with regard to homework.
- Ensure that parents have clarity on what their child is expected to do.
- Encourage pupils to develop the responsibility and self-discipline required for independent study.
- Support pupils' learning experiences via preparation, revision and reinforcement.
- Work with parents and involve them in their child's learning and to keep them informed about the work their child is covering.
- Use homework as a tool for raising standards of attainment.
- Improve the quality of the learning experiences by extending it beyond the classroom.
- Give pupils further practice and deeper understanding of skills, knowledge and concepts learned during the school day.

2. Homework Tasks

- 2.1. Teachers will explain the organisation of homework to parents at the start of Term 1.
- 2.2. Most homework will be given out via the MS Team platform.
- 2.3. Every pupil will receive weekly homework that is set on a Friday and is expected to be returned by the following Wednesday morning.
- 2.4. Due the nature of online work, homework may not necessarily be marked in the traditional sense. However, all work will be checked and feedback will be given to the children as required.
- 2.5. Parents/carers are encouraged to discuss any difficulties with their child. If they have any queries, they should make an appointment to see their child's class teacher. Feedback from parents about their child's homework is also welcomed by the school.
- 2.6. At Micklands, pupils will be given weekly activities taking a maximum of 1 hour – 2 hours.
- 2.7. The amount of homework will increase as the child progresses through school. Teachers may occasionally set extra homework for the whole class if they feel it would be beneficial.
- 2.8. Homework will not be set during school holidays, although daily reading will be strongly encouraged during these times. It may be appropriate for additional revision activities to be given to Year 6 pupils during holidays. This decision will lie with the class teacher.

The table below shows expected homework. Daily reading is encouraged and tasks may be set in addition to the following activities:

3. Marking homework

- 3.1. At Micklands, we recognise that marking and feedback can be a valuable way of support children with their learning.
- 3.2. We also recognise that marking is time-intensive for teachers and should be focussed on the areas where this will have the biggest impact. While recognising the importance of homework, due to the fact that teachers are unable to assess the level of support the child has needed to complete the task, in-depth marking is not expected.
- 3.3. Teachers will check that homework has been completed and keep a record when homework is not completed (see section 5).
- 3.4. Where there are errors or misconceptions that need to be addressed, teachers will do this through verbal feedback during school time. This is a more effective way of helping a child to understand where they went wrong or to learn from any errors they might have made.
- 3.5. In order to encourage children, teachers may give simple words of positive affirmation in marking, but this is not expected.

4. Absences

- 4.1. If the child is absent from school due to illness or medical reasons, the school will not supply work for these periods as pupils should not be well enough to undertake work. In some cases, there may be exceptions to this rule and the school has the right to decide whether this is acceptable or not.
- 4.2. If the child is absent for a long period of time, the teacher and the parent of the child will agree on what should be done and how much help should be given to the child.

5. Pupils who fail to complete homework

- 5.1. All pupils are expected to complete homework on time. Teachers will keep records of pupils completing homework which will be regularly checked. If pupils fail to complete homework, it is expected that they will complete the work during playtimes.

6. Pupils with SEND

- 6.1. The school recognises that pupils with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) may require that specific tasks be set to suit their needs.
- 6.2. While pupils with SEND may benefit from special tasks separate from the homework received from other pupils, it is important that they also do as much in common with other pupils.
- 6.3. A balanced amount of the right type of homework will be set for pupils with SEND, in consultation with the parents and SEND co-ordinator.

7. Equal Opportunities

- 7.1. At Micklands, governors and staff members are committed to providing the full range of opportunities for all pupils, regardless of gender, disability, ethnicity and social, cultural or religious background. All children have equal access and inclusive rights to the curriculum regardless of their gender, race, disability or ability.

8. Policy review

- 8.1. This policy is reviewed every two years by the headteacher.
- 8.2. The scheduled review date for this policy is September 2024.
