Dear Parents/ Carers,

It was wonderful to welcome the children back to school this week after the Christmas holidays. They have returned settled, enthusiastic, and ready to learn, which has been a real pleasure to see. Over the coming week, you should receive a letter from your child's teacher outlining the learning and key topics for the term ahead. This is something we have introduced in direct response to parental feedback about wanting greater clarity around what children are learning. Please do keep an eye out for this letter in your child's bag.

On Wednesday, we were delighted to welcome leaders from the Trust into school. Once again, they were incredibly impressed by the calm and purposeful learning environment and by the high levels of children's engagement during lessons. They particularly noted the excellent use of mini whiteboards, which give every child regular opportunities to demonstrate their understanding during lessons. This approach not only supports strong engagement but also enables teachers to quickly identify and address any misconceptions. I was incredibly proud of the children and the hard work they showed.

Following the success of our PSHE Day in the autumn term, we will be holding another special PSHE Day next week on Thursday 15th January, with the theme "Together at the Table." Children will take part in age-appropriate activities exploring how eating together can help to build kindness, respect, and positive friendships.

Finally, as we continue to expand our extra-curricular offer, I am looking forward to sharing a timetable of clubs for the rest of the year with you next week. Thank you, as always, for your continued support—we are very much looking forward to an exciting and productive term ahead.

Kind regards,

Mr Harrison
