

Curious – A natural desire to explore and understand new things.

Confident – Comfortable making mistakes and learning from them.

Enthusiastic – Eager and excited about using a new language.

Motivated – Having the drive to learn, set goals, and achieve them.

Patient – Understanding that learning a language takes time and consistent practice.

Someone who is ...

What makes a good foreign language learner?

Open-minded and respectful – Willing to embrace new ways of thinking and different cultures.

Inquisitive – Asking questions and seeking to understand deeper meanings.

Diligent – Putting in steady effort to practice and learn.

Persistent – Not giving up when learning gets tough.

