I wasn't allowed to do that when I was your age

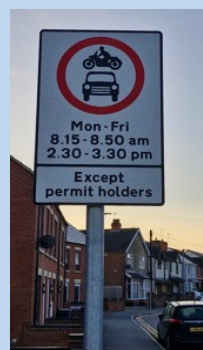

We often hear ourselves saying things to children that we swore blind we would never say when we were parents; things such as "you don't know you are born," or "my parents would let me do that." The same could be said for the characteristic of RESILIENCE. As teachers and parents we try to instil the idea of never giving up and fighting back when injustice strikes and it was this idea of determination that inspired our assemblies this week. American tennis player Amanda Anisimova lost the Wimbledon Women's final this year in the fastest time ever (57 minutes). She never won a game losing 6-0, 6-0 to Polish player Świątek Iga. She left the court crying through embarrassment. However, she vowed that she would work harder on her game and come back stronger. Last week the two players met again in the US Open quarter final and Amanda reversed the result and beat Iga. Resilience is an essential key to success and happiness and I will continue to teach that to the children at Belvoirdale by using examples such as Amanda.

Resilience, the ability to bounce back

Invitation to Tea & Cake

Please come and join us for tea, coffee and cake as we raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support at 2pm on Friday 26th September. Our annual event is a great way to say hello, meet new people and perhaps find out more about our parent group; Friends and Family. If the weather is fine, we will gather at tables on the walkway at the front of school. Please send in donations of cake to the school office where Mr Dax will greet each sugary snack with an eager smile.....

Keeping children safe is everyone's responsibility

I am often asked about how Belvoirdale Primary School keeps children safe and the answer is very simple; I follow the laws, rules and requirements that every school is instructed to follow, including health and safety, fire and emergency, safeguarding and evacuation. These areas also include lockdown and terrorist threats. Every school is required by law to have policies in place, in case of emergency and they are reviewed annually. Each year the Belvoirdale Governing Body carry out a safeguarding audit and every two years Leicestershire Education Authority do the same. We have safety and fire inspections each year as well as a health , buildings and maintenance check each year.

We are a nut free school because we have pupils and teachers who have severe allergies to nuts. The phrase "may contain nuts" that is often found on food labels is acceptable to bring into school.

Not on School Grounds Including our walk-way

Please do not allow your children to play on the equipment before or after school. Sadly our insurance will not cover these times.
