

If you vote for me, I will try my hardest to make sure Friday afternoons are dedicated to eating biscuits. (Pause) My teacher tells me that might be against the rules, so instead, I promise to make sure your actual ideas are always heard!"

So as a house captain I will try to help us come in the higher places in competitions because we really need that because last year we kinda got cooked by Pegasus and in honour of year one and twos as they like to call it blue house.
