Information

- Very excitingly, this week is the final week for the heats of Kings Got Talent. Thank you to all the children that have prepared and rehearsed. We tend to have many entries which means that very few will make it to next week’s finals – please help by managing your children’s expectations and help them to not build their hopes up.
- Snow is forecast this week. I don’t anticipate closing the school, but the forecast has motivated me to remind you about processes for snow. Our aim will always be to open, we will never close the school unnecessarily. If we do close the school, it will only be due to safety reasons, usually due to staff not being able to get to the school due to unsafe roads. In the highly unusual situation where we do decide to close the school, I will inform parents via class Dojo. I always give as much time as possible but sometimes it has been quite late as we have tried to keep the school open and, in the end, it became impossible to do so. Kings Road parents have always been very understanding in these difficult circumstances and I ask for empathy from all sides (including us understanding the impact on working families).
- KS2 Playground climbing frame
You will have noticed that the old one has now been removed from the KS2 playground near to the garage. We had a good few years out of it but eventually it became un-usable. A sign that the equipment was much loved and well used. We have plans for a new one to be built very soon. Watch this space for exciting developments!
- Winter Festival 2024 - Thursday 5th December afterschool until 5pm
Plans for this year’s Winter Festival are underway. We are going to be running the crafts a little differently this year to make it easier for more children to take part. There will be four different crafts activities available for children to take part in, each one will cost 50p each. To take part in these crafts, children will need to purchase a coloured token that will be on sale at a ‘Token Station’ at the Winter Festival. Each craft will have a different coloured token, so children can choose how many crafts they would like to take part in. More information will be sent closer to the festival. Tickets before the event do not need to be purchased.
