

We want every child in Class Challenger to be...

A creative performer, who expresses themselves through using their imagination and their artistic talent, interpreting and responding to what they hear and see

A life-long lover of books who can talk about familiar stories and can independently read and write simple sentences.

A compassionate individual who has a positive sense of self and can challenge themselves to set goals as well as express and regulate their emotions

A confident conversationalist and an active listener who can communicate using a broad vocabulary with elaborate sentences

A risk-taker who likes challenging themselves through adventurous, physical activities building core strength and a healthy body

A Master of Mathematics who understands numbers to 10 using secure number knowledge and language.

A thoughtful friend, who is kind to others, shows care for our environment and is a respectful member of the community
