

At Belvoirdale, Writing happens in all areas of the curriculum, weaving in and out of every subject from EYFS to year 6. We provide opportunities for children to become confident and fluent writers, who can transfer their writing skills across all curriculum areas. Writing across the curriculum is a time for children to be imaginative and creative drawing on their own experiences and from what they have read. Writing must have a purpose, we endeavour to provide children with first hand experiences and hooks for writing that are cross curricular and inspire them to write for different audiences. Children apply their skills in spelling, grammar and punctuation to all pieces of writing.
